In her project for the Palacio de Cristal in Madrid, "To Breathe - A Mirror Woman", composed for the space and soundtrack The Weaving Factory, 2004; the artist wanted to leave the structural architecture of the building untouched so that it would become part of the mirrors installed on the floor in an effort to increase and unite space. With minimal elements - a translucent diffraction film that covers the vault, the entire glass structure of the palace, mirror that covers the floor and sound of her breathing; the artist brings us into a transforming experience and invites us to experiment both with our minds and with sounds - to put our senses and imagination into gear. Kimsooja was born in 1957 in Taegu, South Korea. Central to her work is the bottari, a traditional Korean bed cover used to wrap and protect personal belongings, which Kimsooja transforms into a philosophical metaphor for structure and connection. Kimsooja has received the Anonymous Was a Woman Award (2002), among others, and has been an artist-in-residence at the World Trade Center/NY, P.S. 1 Museum/NY, and Aecole Nationale Superieure des Beaux-arts/Paris. She has had major exhibitions at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, Hirshhorn Museum, and Sculpture Garden/Washington DC, Museo Nacional Centro de Arte Reina Sofia/Madrid, Magasin 3, Stockholm Konsthall/Sweden, and MIT List Gallery/Cambridge. Kimsooja has participated in international exhibitions like the Venice Biennale, Yokohama Trienal or Whitney Biennial.
